LITHIUM-IRON BATTERY OFFERS CLIMATE CONTROL FEATURE

Xantrex, Burnaby, British Columbia, Canada, presents Freedom eGEN Max, a lithium-iron battery-based technology that integrates with an RV's engine and electrical system to provide automatic climate control. The Freedom eGEN Max provides AC and DC power to run everything from air conditioners to hotel loads in all climate conditions. At the heart of this technology is a powerful lithium-iron battery that is constantly replenished via multiple sources to ensure the RV never runs out of power. The proprietary DC pump and air compressor deliver heating and air conditioning through front factory vents and roof top. The product is fully customizable and available in various configurations.
